Cancellation & Refund Policy

Cancellation of Services

Auridean does not require a formal cancellation process. If you no longer require our services, simply inform us that you no longer wish to continue with the programme.

Once we receive your notification, Auridean will not issue any further invoices or charge you for future services, provided that the relevant payment period has not already commenced.

Refund Policy

All payments made to Auridean are non-refundable.

Once a payment has been received, Auridean will not provide refunds for unused classes, missed lessons, unused access, or a decision to discontinue the programme.

Students are therefore encouraged to carefully consider their registration and payment before subscribing to or purchasing any Auridean service.

Future Payments

Where a service operates on a recurring payment basis, notifying Auridean that you no longer require the service will prevent further invoicing or charges for subsequent payment periods, subject to the applicable billing cycle.

By registering for an Auridean programme or service, you acknowledge and agree to this Cancellation & Refund Policy.
